FIVE MILLION LOGS GONE TO SEA

The River at Portland Fills the Cellars on the Water Freet and Its Ripples Are Lapping Pront Street.

the rise of the river since Sunday has been rapid and southneous a rise of four feet in twenty four hours being officially re Between the hours of 9 A M and 4 30 I' M pesterday the water came up sev enteen inches and a half and was rising at the rate of two and a hulf nuches an hour, the area then being 223 feet above low water mark karly in the afternoon the rain which had been light for some hours ceased fulling alto_ether the sky cleared up and for the first time in almost a week, the sun shone bright and cheerful and the cool, refreshing wind drove snow white clouds rapidly across the clear blue heavens

Looking above all was serene and beau tiful the day wis perfect, but below the usu il placid waters of the Willamette were swollen to a tumultous sea of angry botting the hands waters rolling one ind in their midd course to the sea, bearing bundreds of sawlogs and vist masses of heavy drilt. All day long especially during the afternoun-the usual busy and bustling appearance of 1 runt street with its heavy trucks and wholesale warehouses was conand wholesale warehouses was con-verted into scenes or gay activity as bun dreds of people the granter 1 umber being of the gentler sex who attred in 1 ay dresses were promein ding up and down a leager to gain the few 1 outs of vantage from which bey could view the seething waters and

THE MOLLISON STREET BILLS F

Ine Morrison street bridge, being the favorite place was songht by many and was blocked by moving masses of humanity all day. In consequence of the great number who had gathered and which were this com ing in streams a squadof special policemen and toll collectors were organized and sta-tuned at each end of the budge close to the entrances to accommodate the many who were passing to and fro and to Leep the throng from crowding on to the bridge and endangering the structure with their we ght.

The big body of drift which had been accumulating for the past three days against the piling that I rotocts the main pier of the Morrison street budge, gave way 1 sterday afternoon at 5 o clock and floated off down the river 1 rom daylight yesterday morn ing, a large force of men were kept al work on the drift with pike poles and ropes but it was not until the bour named that the accumulated mass g ve signs of relinquishing its hold when all at once the drift parted and the workmen had to scramble for their lives livering on the floating pile is half dozen of their pike poles in their eager ness to get ashore. The bridge was only tempo still releved of firstrain for a couple of hours later a lot of logs which were boomed near the old water worls at the oot of I neeln street Iroke away and though many passed whout touching, a great many more were piled against the main pier and there lodged so that the dan ger to the bridge is even Breater that it it is

About 8 o clock yesterday more, ng a lot of drift collected at the south and of least island resort house and broke it lease. It came tearing down the river and the O wego went out to meet it and look off some peo ple who were in the house fibe tow was too great, so she let loose, and the house struck the bridge with a cross it was the house however which made the crash and it went under acts its upper works torn off The building with some boats, which were stored in it, was owned by Thomas Ryder of Portland

The many thousand logs which have gone out during the high water will entitl a great loss Sunday about 5 000 000 feet escaped from the boom at Weidlers mill and at 2 P M Yesterday the big boom of logs at Hogue s saw mill or the East Side burst and let out saw mill of the List slide burst and let out thundreds. It was but a few minutes after the breaking when the big traders were scattered all long the river to a port some distance below the steel bridge and the owners anew it would be folly and only endanger his to attempt to save any of the property in such a wild river. Lattice will the rest of the loss of Woulders will which the rest of the logs at Weidier s mill which compand by fur the greater part of the sup-th broke loose and followed in the wake of those that escaped bundar. It is thought that if a boom were constructed at the mouth of the Willamette the greater part of the run away logs could be saved. With Mr. Wedler adversity doesn't seem to come single Yesterday afternoon he was driving shipir. Yesterday afternoon he was driving a spirited horse attached to a buggs and he hoaled the animal up the entrance to the steal bridge just as the draw was being opened. The horse because unima agrable and started in a run to ards the draw legate the u most efforts to hold him in the number of the first to hold him in the number of the first to hold him in the number of the first that he and ron gate, which alone left the v belo and occupant from tengran be thon into the deep rolling river hand wis the buggy wis awiech though Wi Weldler and the horse escaped material injury

THE BE CENT FEE A LINES Note of the terries have been running since bunday. They er is the swittened to that distance too short to handle either of the large Stark street ferries, and the west side position of the bouthe in Lactace trans-portation ferry being high and dry on the steep grade, that boat has also neen forced steep grade, that boat has also seen forced to suspend operations. The deficison street ferry has been ted up at its west side 1 id ing. Captain Hickett of the ferry six the boat can run but an not risk trips quitel crough to suit his into 1 of to whom would not wait but jatro ized the bridge. The last two days that the ferry run jut about 17 was rear of while the daily expenses are $30 so the owners con cluded to give the boat a rest until the water subsides

LNCLE SING SOATS ON A TARK At 9 o clock yesterday morning the government bout, consisting of some half a decen barges, a couple of steamers, the diedger and snag boats, which have been tied up near the Union Pacific's boneyard for the winter, broke from their mornings and drifted dawn on some of the old boats that are tied below. The steamer T. J. Poter which is a temperary eccuracy of the ter which is a temporary occupant of the yard, suffered more than the rest, receiving a serious jam which will damage her to the extent of several hundred dollars. As soon extent of several hundred dollars [As soon as the boats broke away Captain Troup was telephoned and asked to send steamers to corral the drifting craits. The captain inmediately dotailed the Ocklahama E. N. Cooke Lurline Salem and going hunself in the large steamer R. R. Thompson he left for the scene of the rampage. The boats were drifting off over the river and some were continuously that the and some were going rapidly with the current. The captain got off the steamer at the bone vaid where he spent, the most of the day making secure the fastenings of the various steamers to avoid any more esca pades By overing nearly all of the escaped government boats were run upon Swan Island and made fast by the Union Pacific s steamers. The pilings to which the Police steamers. The plings to which the route was moored being weakened by the crash they received from the fleet could obt stand the steamer's constant and heavy agging, and many of them were broken off. To guard against further accidents to the boat Ciptain Fronp ordered the Lirling to tow the Potter out into the Columbia and moor her in a quiet place where neither the wind nor the water will affect her) SIII S AND STEAMERS

One of the principal attractions on the water front was the Clan Mickenzic whose decks were continually crowded with visit of the yessel was thronged, and at one time blooled by the people coming and going This being the only means of ent-ance or exit a long file was continually in incready to go up while a life time was formed on the ship's deck by hose who had seen all they wanted and wished to get down the Dittordale, lying just above was a course of a good deal of interest

Inc Canadian Pacificks steamship Danube

probably occuries the most uncurshale post ton of any vessel in port—bhe lies on the cast side of the river at the lower Southern Pacific doc c with her nose fifty yards from the steel railroad bridge. The water has renched such a hight and the yeasel is consequently so much higher than the dock that she has bad leads. A half dozen or more lines are run from the after port of the vessel and made last to numerous piles, every one of which is kept perfectly that by the strain, and the rules are in grea danger of giving way several having siready broken off. The river at that place is very switt the big eddy forming just above shoots a current directly into the stern of the iron ship touit in force to a gigantic

Ali the drift that comes down the river is d we to the cost side at this point and a greater part of it either strikes heavily, or rubs ty the Dinube's starboard side and stern. The ship was in much danger at 3 30 o clock in the afternoon when an immense stump about live feet in diameter, and nearly filly long, with the roots attached came whirhing and turning with great rapid-ity towards the vessel. For the moment, the workmen on the supplied their breath and stood still while not a sound escaped the crowd who had congregated on the dock and on the bringe lower down Everybody expected to see the vessel either sent crash ing into the steel structure shead, or bave a hole knocked in her hull But such was not the Danube's fate for the big tree struck with a crush igainst the dock thout twenty with a crash ignist the dock mont; twenty feet from the ship, and carried away the her by four inch timbers of the wharf as if it were paper. A second later a large pile was snapped off it dieft banging by the spikes it the top of the dock. The dift was at the top of the dock. The d ift was c'icched however by the pile and drifted slowly in between the shin and the piling who e it became wedged, and backed up the water like a small mountain while the strain on the thick bawsers was alarmingly

Three or fou seamer were unn ediately let down who endeavored to free the drift let down who endeavored to free the drift without ivoil but succeeded in keeping more from accumulating. At 5 o clock the vessel was aga a threatened by a large free from 250 to 300 feet in length which came shooting towards the dock but it struck an

With the rising of the water the swift cur rent is changing more towards the enter of the nyer, and there is a chance of he Dan-ube soon being able to back up out of her present routien of danger

THE COLUMBIA FILLE The steamer Bonits left vesterday ing for Vanoower but succeeded only in reaching Fisher's Landing, a point several miles this side of hir destination A very violent wind's orm was encountered similar to the hony give that visited the staumer lurime on the columbia in which that boat suffered heavy damages and came very near being lestroyed. The captain of this Bonita found that attempting to steam in the face of the in reasing gale would only endanger the boot and the lives of those on beard and Rallroad depot the water has backed up, forming a large slough, which extends to the Multnomah box factory's buildings, and hack beyond the narrow gauge enclosing everal hundred cords of wood. The sawdust that has been accumulating for years from the factory forms a sor, of natural bridge through the water, over which teams and wages his driven J B Montgomery's new boat. Typhoon which is to run in conjunction with the Oreone on the has been lying on the wiys waiting for the machinery to come from the Eist just above the narrow gauge depot. Its eleva ed position was soon reached by the water, however, which commenced flowing over the stern, was soon reached by the water, however, which commenced flowing over the stern, and for a time the boat was threatened with a forçed leunch but after much trouble she was showed in the water, where she may cracefully rides, without much damage, and looks as proud as a peacon with her red trimmings. The quantity of drift and heavy current was too much for the Oregon City stemer Latons and she is now moored. City steamer Latona and she is now moored between the streets with her nose almost touching 1 ront at the foot of Salmon

li will be impossible to esimate the amount of damage that has be n done by reason of the high water until the docks are once more clear Some of the North Portland transportation company's docks contained more or less freight, and a good deal, but just how much or of what nature that now hes submerged is not known

ALONG THE EAST SIDE

The East side over front deer not present such opportunities for deristation by the flood is on the West side, and so far the record of damages is comparatively insig-nificant but should the river rise much higher this may be changed

At the Wiliamette ship yard the waterhas

craft pulled out on the ways a few days ago for repairs is almost affort

Just south of the Last Side approach of the Morrison street bridge the reop'e living on the scows have pulled their floating houses closer to the shore. Ectween the bridge and the Standard box fector is an accommulation of driftwood and sawlogs, and the old ferry pointoon at the foo of M street. is in an inverted position. The seew at this same place is overturned and the roof is only visible. It may float off if the river rises much higher

The ferry pontoon of the Stars street lind presents a rather dispidated appearance Li has been pulled up the incline as far as possible so it is almost on a level with L street. It is barricaded as the ferry is not running. The lower floor of Duniway & Co slumber yard is submerged. This floor is covered with lumber but none of this floot to float off as there are barricades around the exbosed parts. All the scow and boat houses moored north of the fumber's and have come up with the fined, and their inhabitants are in nowice concerned of out the freshet. The old mermaid bathhouse, in ther north, seems about ready to float off, but yesterday ome men were engaged in attrching a line

Back from the river the greatest damage is on Twelfth street, which was eccently in-proved from Hawthorne avenue to Sult-van's guich. There are places on this street where the gravel is nearly all washen away. At the north approach of the Trelith-street bridge between J and K streets, a vast amount of gravel filling has been washed away The repairs on this street will cost the city about $1000. There are innumerable small washout but not important. The deep cut leading from the O a C forry to aday ayeng caving of the banks, and will cost at least $300 to repair The people in Smath's Col's, Tubett's and Auer's addition; and those living near the car shops are experiencing the greatestine on venience from the flood. It has been two years since the high water cleansed these sloughs. The suburban raily 178 are running all right, except the Hiwthorne line, which a experiencing trouble with the fill across Asylum creek, which, being composed of soft earth, is constantly 'melting' away. It is not an easy matter to repair the damage while the storm is in progress. The damages in Last Portland will be from $5000 to $5000.

And such was really the ease is was subseque t is demonstrated. During all these days that rain fell in he valles show constantly deseered do long the Coast range and Cascades r n ng n depths varying from one to it was no od that the temperature rose to an almost spring like baiminess and everybody was talking about ' wonderfu ly warm weather for November 1

1 riduy, November 20 a very leavy rain storm set in For more than fort hours the rain literally poured down Al, Salurday night (30th) the very "mindows of heaven seemed opened, and the water descended in furious slinding sheets. This rain was general all over the valley and along the two great mountain ranges. And the tempera-ture! Why one rarely uperienced warmer weather even in April. Men actually pulled their costs off while in the house to be comfort blt, and tires were wholly super fluous to far as known this high state of temperature prevailed even to the tops of the mountains Such a comb nation of circumstances—a tremendous rainstorm, an elevated temperature and wast quantities of show on the mountains—wrought the coming disastrous flood. From every side and from the heavens above come oceans. Vast masses of water were rolled down the moun inatiequite to accommodate within the proper channels the watery avalanche Musical treat brooks became furious tor-rents in a few hours creeks and larger streams we e swollon to raging rivers while the William tte and its larger tributaries expubled into a righty woving sea. And thus, like a surging ocean the flood took up the murch down the valley on its resistiess and overwhelming march to the Lacile, gathering new force and accumulated volume as i svept onward beward hundred persons withersed the thrilling scene of the run of the St. Char from the high bid below Crmemah. She started from Canemah just about dusk and steamed down along the castern built moving with the swiftness of an arrow. The beat passed near where the woolen factory now stands and landed on a saudbank below the Catholic church. No accident hap pened, and the run of about one and it restourts miles was made in less than three minutes. Ohly two men were on board the bi Clair at the time—Captain S. R. Smith and Engineer. Alonzo Vickers. Captain builth is now living at Lewiston Idaho and Mr. Vickers is in the employ of the O.R. & N. Co. over on the bound.

No record has been preserved of the height of the water at Portland during the flood and therefore no lightes can be given. All till low land north of the city, and a great portion of what is now the city below. Ash street, was submerged, and presented the all pearance of a vast lake. Minay families were recoud from their bouses in small boats. No cases of drowning are reported in the city. Some idea may be formed of the leight of the freshet when the Statement is made that a family living at the corner of lifth and Tainest were surrounided by the water, and had to be resured from a window in the second story.

It was impossible to estimate with any

It was impossible to estimate with any degree of accuracy the loss sustained by the memorable flood of that year. One million deliars would certainly not be an exaggerated estimate of losses—direct and indirect—caused by the great overflow. This would included the sweeping away of warehouses, whereves, dwellings, and their contents bridges fences loss of stock and general damage to forme orchards, etc. Nor was the flood the only disastrousfeath exist he winter of 1961-2. Following in the immediate wake of the freshet cannel leavy snow, and a long bitter cold spell of weather. This found hundreds who has been rendered Louisless and homeless or who had sustained as evere losses by reason of the flood in an unprepared condition. There was much actual suffering among if excitiers of the valley, though no eaker of postities of the valley, though no eaker of postities and privitions were endured by along damage the divastrous within 50 and 3 show known but very few leaves of death from freezing occurred in the Williamster which followed. protect is the service be persone and is continually in court.

President Harrison's slowness in appointing the United hates judge 11 Walh ington is discussed very freely in official circles and people pern rally are at sea as to the cause of the del v. Sen thirs Squi cand Allon have recon nucled Judge Hanford of Sentile. They have done that duty and it remains for the president for exercise his appointive oreio, slive. Day af er day the disputches from Washington have told us that Senators squire and Allen have been unable to get satisfaction from the president requiring the judgesh plane in sin wonder that nobody knows the status of affairs.

It is the opinion of a promise in politics in that President Harrison long since made up his mind to appoint Judge Calla is regard less of the race uneculation of the Wash in gion senators and would have sent his name to the senator but the Vash in gion; senators and would have sent his connection with the latest fea ture in the judgeship ontest. Judge Callams nomination has been vigerously urged by the Vorthern Paofic and a suow being strong / oppo ed because of his supposed connection with the company. It is thought that the que from of Call in significant connection is now engroving the attention of the president and causing the Iclay that is causing so much comment all over the country.

Senator bequire finds himself in a queer position in this judgeship contest. Political danger's surround him on all sides. If Judge Hanford is appointed the cry will go in all over the scant that his quoty is in ting a boy of trieff by takin e all the good offices. It already I is a senator and the governor and to give the judge hip would be going one step to far. A feeling has begin to manifest in the fit of Wash unglon by long odds. It is pretty much the same feeling that the Osgon egiliature and be good one to recently will make bly cipital out of King country will make bly cipital out of King country shogishness and use its colgn of vantage with effect in fayor or its another him

UNITED STATES SUPREMA COURT Is Ov Growded and Delayed Busines -The E mady

PORTLAID Feb 8—[To THE FOLIOF |—It is well understood that the regular business of the supreme court of the Un ted States is about three years in arrears. This mainly attributable to the increase of business arising from the wide spreading area at the United States and their rapidly Increasing numbers and population within the one vindred years that they elapsed since the ergs nightlen of the supreme court. To this may be added the wast of judicio s legislation to some a cent. It may be well here to refer briefly to some a cent. It may be well here to refer briefly to some a the legislation upon the organization and duties of the supreme court and the duties of the justices thereof beating upon the questiors under consideration. By the adoption of the constitution of the United States the judicial powers were vessed in one supreme court and such inferior courts as congress might from time to line ordain and establish. By an let of conservations.

An Obegonian reporter visited Irondale this forenoon and learned that Kulley kept his amuggling headquarters in an old deserted building near Irondaic, where Lingenfeldter was in the habit of visiting Kelley, who frequently remarked that Lingenfeldter as too inquisitive for his own good, and unless he desisted in prying into his (Kelley's) personal affairs Lingenfelder would receive a severe thrashing. Kelley met Lingenfeldter last Monday on the beach and beat him severely. That night an intelligent Indian named flicks, who lives in Lonely city on at the mouth of Chimacum creek, within a few rods of Lingenfelater's cabin saw two men come down the brach from Irondale, one apparently drawing the other The smaller of the two was forced into a skiff and the two staited across the bay one occupant who alighted and entered the cabin. The next day the cabin door was found unlocked and kerosene strewn around the room, giving unquestionable evidence that an attempt was made to burn the house A few days afterward when the customs officers were getting too numerous to suit Kelley he remarked in a saloon that Uncle bain s officers did not bother him but he found the civil authorities would blame him for the mysterious disappearance of Lingen reidter

They expect a hard fight and have just issued a circular, in which they set forth "that hie hostile attitude of the old counties toward this movement will not be changed until tobograming hers become the fashionable passtime of the internal regions, and it is useless to walt for the desired event."

The circular also says that Stepton county would contain 1220 square rules, 2200 votes, 9000 people, 130 miles of railroad, 10 growing towns and six newspapers. The creation of the new county would leave spokans county 1385 square miles and 25,000 people and Whitman county 1395 square miles and 13,000 people. In support of the bill it is argued that the average area of a county in the Middle West is 618 square miles, while Spokane county contains 1830 and Whitman county 2110 square miles.

The necessity of the immediate completion of the Washington School for Defective Youth at Vancouver is made apparent by a Youth at Vancouver is made apparent by a letter just received from an Eastern Washington representative. The writer has a daughter who is a nucle. For five years, he says, he has been trying to whace his child in a school where she will be tenefited, but has been muchle to put her in the Vancouver institution owing to its crowded condition. There are a great many children in the same predigment. Representative Shaw has introduced a bill asking for $40,000 to complete the school.

The house has fallen away behind in its work since it began to hold only one session daily. It meets at f:30, and half an hour is dally. It meets at 1:30, nn.l haif an hour is consumed reading the journal and other preliminaries. Sometimes the order of business is taken up where the business of the proceding day was left off, but generally the order of business is begun anew. If two sessions were held daily a great, deal more business could be transacted. The morning hours could be devoted to the reading of memorials and of new bills, etc., and the afternoon hours to the third reading of oills. The house calendar new contains about twenty bills on that reading and about a dozen special orders. The long afternoon sessions are particularly wearisome to Speaker Feighan. The exertion in arising and butting motions is exacting. Speaker Feighan has been taking, things, a little easier lately, and several times last week he called members to the chair to retieve him.

Representative McReavy showed himself Representative McReary showed himself to be a friend of the laboring man when a bill to amend the code so that a supplier should have an equal lien with the logger was on final passays in the bouse the other day. Mr. McReavy is a st-pplier, but made a strong speech against any amendment to the laws that would prevent the logger having the prior lien. In voting against the bill was silled.

Representative Edwood Evans, of Pierce county, is one of the best known men in the legislature. He has lived in Washington contey, is one of the best known from for the legislature. He has lived in Washington for thirty-eight years, and is known from one end of the state to the other. This is his third term in the legislature. He was speaker of the house in 1875, and in 1881 was in the council, which corresponds to the senate. He is a good debt for and parliamentary tactician. Ho was in the chair Friday afternoon, and his decision on the motion to adjourn gave rise to a great deal of merriment. In the midst of considerable confusion, caused by motions to adjourn until 10 A. M. Saturday, and an amendment fixing 1:50 P. M. as the time, Drow moved as an amendment to the amendment that the house adjourn until 10 A. M. Monday. There was a nearly equal vote on the last amendment, and Mr. Evans gave the last amendment of the doubt and declared the house adjourned and great laughter and appleause.

Those who have been fighting the Power medical bill in the senate have about given up the battle, and the rassage of the bill up the battle, and the flassage of the bill seems assured. Dr. Power, chairman of the house medical committee, has been unjustly consured for the lops of the remonstratives against the bill will chewer efferred to him when the bill was before the house. He is an allopathic physician, and the homosopaths have been trying to make out that he purposely destroyed the documents. Dr. Power kept them in his desk for some time, and becoming cumbersome he cast time, and becoming cumbersoms he cast then into a waste basket. The next day Senator Wolfe inquired for them, and was told what had become of them. The remonstrances were addressed to the house only, and Dr. Power thought, insumuch as the bill had passed that body, hey were of no further use.

The Rainfal Situation Scientifically Considered.

Signal Service Observor B. S. Pagne Says the Outlook for June is for Unpercedented High Water-Valuable Table.

United States Signal Office Observer B. S. Pague has prepared a table showing the high water by goars. He also furnishes a valuable and succinct statement of the outtook for June.

At H A. M. yesterday, Mr. Pague reports, the river gauge showed a hight of the river of 22 feet above low water mark, or "zero" on the government gauge, at the foot of Shark street, rear of The Osmoonian building, Ou January 22 the gauge showed shight of 2 feet. On this date the rain began, of which the present is a continuation, and on this date the snow began melting,

From January 22 to February 4 inclusive 15.67 inches of rain has fallen, a greater amount than has ever before fa len in any 15 days since the records of the signal service began in 1871.

On December 12 and 13, 1882, 10.75 inches felt, but the days previous and following had light rain. From this unusually beavy rain in two days the river rose from 5 to 18.6

feet. During January, 1890, there felt 35.3 inches of snow, which approximately makes 3.53 inches of water. This snow began to thoroughly melt on January 21, hence this amount can be added to the rainfull that has fallen from that date to the present time, which would make, 15,67 inches rainfall plus 3.53 inches water from snow, 19.20 inches of water at Portland, which in a short time was transferred to the river.

The rainfall in the central and southern part of the Willamette ralley is about 75 per cent, of what it is at Portland, So from this an approximate amount of 12.15 inches has been suddenly, in fifteen days, added to the river throughout the Willamette valley, these figures represent the amount of water that has fallen on a space 21/2 inches in diameter. The approximate number of gallong can be worked out by it ose who are ameter. The approximate number of gallons can be worked out by those who are lond of figures.

However, it shows a vast amount of water that has been added to the waters of the river. The indications are for recontinuous fall of rain for thurly-six or forty-eight bours longer at the least. The highest water in the river since 1880 from the syring freshed was 23.8 feet, on February 7, 1881, and the rainfall for the month of January preceding was 8.57 inches; for the fitteen days preceding February 7 it was 8.42 inches. So that with a less amount of precipitation the river rose to 23.8 feet.

Considering past records and present conditions, there is no reason why the river will not reach the previous high water mark of spring and go higher so that danger should be provided for or damage expected. The following tuble gives the Highest water from back water of Columbia, in feet and tenths, since the commencement of the river records in 1850:

The above shows the spring freshets occur about the 1st of February, and the summer back water to occur about the midsubmer back water to occur about the mid-die of June. As the snow fall has been unusually heavy in the mountains, whose streams empty into the Columbia, an unu-sual rise may be expected in June that will most likely exceet former high-water marks.

MORE DAMAGE BY THE CVERFLOW. The Waters of Tennet Creek Undermined a Bridge-Another Break-The Work of Repairs.

The waters of Tanner creek sewer, although fairly well under con rol, are still fiable to do further damage it not closely watched. At an early hour yesterday morning the water had so undermined two bents of the Chapman street bridge that they sunk nearly three feet. The driveway above was lowered to a corresponding deabove was lowered to a corresponding de-gree, and it became necessory to barricade both ends of the bridge to keep teams off. Foot passengers walked across all day. The undermining of the bents endangered the entire bridge, and it became necessary to enure bridge, and the teether hecessary to take prompt action to avoid further damage. The two benis in question are the same ones that were threatened the night before. The

that were threatened the night before. The creek at this point indices a hind, and the force of the rushing water gradually cut out a large section of the west bank.

To prevent any further ravages by water to the aready tottering supports, Superintendent of Streets Chapman had a plank channel constructed in the middle of the stream and between the bents. The water, thus continue, was prevented from doing further damage either to the bank or to the foundation framework of the bridge. A large force of men were kept basy filing in the large cavity alongside the new channel with sacks of sand as a means of giving the mank conduit greater substantiality.

The gulch between B street and the Exposition building was yesterday practically clear of water. Instead of a flood there were several bondires, as workmen had already begun to burn the wrecks of old buildings and drift wood which had floated down Esturday.

and drift wood water, and nonied down Est-urday
There is still considerable danger of a cave-in alongside the street car stable where the There is still considerable danger of a cavein alongside the street car stable where the sewer passes innote its firet. It is here that the glant powder was employed in removing the obstructions: The soil, being thoroughly scaked by the flood of Saturday and turther jarred by the discharge of the blast, is quite loose. The water has a ready undermined a portion of the street extending beyond the edge of the sidewalk and keeps siding down in small quantities. A force of men were yesterday employed at this point clearing off the ground to the level of the top of the sewer. Timbers were then loth across and a sort of bulkhead to properly brace the earth will be constructed.

MR. DEKUM WAS SORE VEXED. Some time yesterday morning a section of the new sewer just to the rear of the Exposition building caved in, making the seventh break since Esturday morning. The rewer at this point was covered with about twenty feet of earth. The old piles driven into the earth along both sides of the sewer at the time it was built, to keep the earth from falling in, had been left standing. The sewer, piling, and all was covered over with soil and it was thought that everything would be lovely. This, however, has proved to be a serious error, for the caving in of the sewer was a direct result of the neglector remove the plank piles. As the bottom of the sewer is round, and the piles were set perpendicular, there naturally remained a cavity along either side of the sewer. The space above was filed in with earth, but no carth could rench the space below. A stream of water found its way into one of these cavities and gradually undermined the sewer. When the walls caved in, the earth and piles fell in also and the sower came near seing clogged up again.

A force of men worked at the wreck yesterday afternoon, but they were only able to disloding a few of the piles. Most of them are broken and twisted and it will require considerable labor to repair the Camago.

Mr. Dekrim, the president of the Exposi-

Mr. Deknm, the president of the Exposition building, spent considerable time on the ground watching operations, and it is putting it mildly to say that he was mad, he wanted to know why the piles had ever been allowed to romain there, and a great many other things that are difficult to answer. The loss of the dirt alone is considerable.

ple naturalness of the situations they contain and the wit and force of the lines of the dialogue. Mr. Murphy in the title role does some very clever work: As Larry Donoyan, barring a seeming lack of enthusiasm and spirit in the first let, he gives a decidedly faithful and enjoyable portrayn! He sings the song "A Handful of Earth," with a synapathy and depth of feeling that appeal strongly to the sympathy of his audience.

Miss Libby Rirko makes a most pleasing Kate Donoyan, and donbles the part of Tim in a maner almost to defy detection. She is an enroest, painstaking lift leactress, and much of the interest in and success of the performance is attributable to her on-enthuwork. She sings sweetly, too, and last night received a double encore on her song. Hornce Mitchell as Gerald Kavanarh, W. H. Leary as Lawyer Waddy, John Armstrong as Patrick Kavanagh, and Virginia Lampert as Dora were all equal to their work. The play was well staged and met applianse throughout. A special y enjoyable feature of the evening was the admirable playing of the orchestra under the direction of Mr. T. Wilmot Eckert.

"Shaum Rhue" again to-night.

Only a few days more remain until the public will have the opportunity to enjoy the long promised treat, at the delication of the new opera house, of the Erima Juch Opera Company. Speaking of a performance of "Mignon" by this con pany, the Boston Hexald says of Miss Juch:

There are few artists as well adapted to lead an organization like this to yletory at Miss Juch, and sin or claim has the good-will and hearty woll-wishing of all musts lovers for her compositions of the Mignon is as all her operation have been, an 'deal creation, and the sang the beautini music of the role with fine teste and skill. She is a most thoroughly satisfactory arist, never slighting a point, never over-shaberating the composer's idea, never forgetting smallest details of single action, and always slighing the must of her source of pure delight these her sing "Mnower Thou the Laud?" and all of her later numbers were equally enjoyable. act, though a tritle strained, met popular approvid.
The work of Josic Morris Sulivan as Peggy was marked by some peculiar mannersms, but her anties seemed to please he autionce and she was frequently applauded. Dan Morris Sullivan was good in the fitte role. He is easy in manner, and at once caught the fancy of the audionce, while his bregue was very clover.

Assurice Mallard made a pleasing Shiel Agal, and his work was, on the whole, commendable, though his manner was a trille stiff and awkward. The Harvey Black of C. M. Gray was a very good piece of work, and evined care.

Miss Margaret Marshall was clever and amusing as the widew Meraann, and Miss Kate Dalgleish mot all the requirements of Lady Nesta Harlington.

The house was packed, and equally good audionces will doubtless greet the company the remainder of the wock in the same play.

There is a snow blockade on the Northern Pacific cast of the Cascades tunnel. No compounication can be had by wire, and nothing, therefore, can be conjectured as to when the through train due in Theoma Sunday morning will get through. The Northern Pacific trains between here and Tacoma continue to run on time, and before the wires came down the reports from Helena were that all trains were moving regularly. General Manager Mellen and N. U. Thrail, assistant to the president, are on the block-aded train bound for Tacoma.

The Southern Pacific is, If anything, in a worse condition than twenty-four bours ago. On the Clackamas bootom the water is over the tops of the telegraph poles.

A reporter was informed at the Union Pacific offices yesterday that between 500 and 600 freight cars are now on the way over their line to Portland wost of Green river. The Abbins yards and the docks will be severely taxed when the accumulations arrive, but it is not anticipated that any serious trouble will coaur. Some two years ago a similar accumulation was had and freight satisfactorily handled, yen when it had to be trainsferred across the river on barges.

The Northern Pacific people started their No. 2 west from Tacoma at 10 A. M. yesserday and will pash it through as soon as the snow blockade can be raised.

The Portland Rowing Association's loss is thought to be complete. Its boathouse, boats, both pleasure and race, are a total

The boathouse was struck by a drift Sanday morning about 4 o'clock, and, although securely fastened with rope and wire cable, it broke loose. The house could not pass under the railroad bridge, and was turned bottom-side up by the obstruction. The last heard from the week, the house

The last heard from the wreck the house was ashore at Reeder's landing, and the barge, on which it was built, was on its way to the sea bottom-side up. The loss amounts to about $5000.

The broperly lost, besides the barge and two-story house, consists of nine pleasure boats, ten shells, ours, and the entire outfit and belongings of a thoroughly equipped amateur boat club.

The greater number of shells were made of paper by Waters & Son, of Troy, N. Y., and the integer ones cost about $400 in this city.

Two flue canyas and one single shell, betonging to private parties, were also lost.

The association have nothing left but one flue cedar shell in the East (not shipped on account of the blockade), a fine record in the past, and sufficient energy, with the assistance of its many friends, to rebuild.

A reward of $50 is advortised in this issue of This Omesonian for the recovery of the boathouse or barge.

A. B. MeAlpin, one of the moniters of the of The Oregonian for the recovery of the boathouse or harge.

A. B. McAlpin, one of the moniters of the club, chartered the steamer Alarm Sunday afternoon, hoping to be able to overtake the runaway boathouse. The little racer got as are as McKenzie's landing, when the gathering darkness began to cover the muddy waters, and the chase was abandoned. The captain did not dare to risk his craft among the logs, trees and other drifting debris on such a river, and he tied up for the night. Yesterday morning he returned to the city. McAlbin heard that the begre was about lesterday morning he returned to the city. McAlpin heard that the barge was about four hours ahead of him at the time he gave up the chase. He still hopes that it will be intercepted and fied up before it reaches the mighty Pacific. The barge alone is yalued at about $1400.

After relating to us how shamefully he had been "buttered up" by Mr. Bundman and a Mr. Hethcote, and that he was left here without means, we both offered him any, assistance, which Mr. Huebner most emphatically declined. He showed us a telegram directed to Mr. Charleton from the Northern Paolific Railroad Company at St. Paul, requesting him to turnish Mr. Huebner with passage to the latter city. Mr. Huebner also told us that he had $18, and a gold watch and chain, that he could pawn if necessary.

After being at the Marquam Grand all day I returned to my room on Saturday light at about baif past 11 o'clock, where I found a note from Mr. Huebner, saying that ne would leave for St. Paul at 10 o'clock that light, and to send him a few dollars, which I should have done cheeffully, but it was soo late.
